

Wyoming Farmstead Identification Number Request for Wyoming Operations

The Wyoming Livestock Board, state and county fairs, and 4-H and FFA progress shows will use the Wyoming Farmstead Identification Number for animal disease contact tracing if an outbreak of infectious or toxic disease emerges. The Farmstead Identification Number represents a verified address useful for locating the origin and assessing the extent of disease in the event of an outbreak. Please see the back of this page for more details. The Farmstead ID differs from a USDA Premise ID Number in some important ways.

Premise Location Information
Where is the main or central site where livestock are managed? If your operation can, and especially if it often does, maintain distinct and separate flocks or herds, you may want to consider separate premise IDs. Otherwise a single Premise ID will work even if animals are moved in the course of normal production. Please provide the physical rather than mailing address.
